

Download Access 2013 On Demand Perspection Inc

Creating an Application Part Using a Template. An application part template is a predefined portion of a database, such as a table or form, or an entire database application that you can quickly insert and use in a database.