Independent Journalists in Texas By James McEnteer Fighting Words profiles five journalists who published the truth as they saw it, no matter how their reporting angered politicians, social and religious leaders, or other journalists. McEnteer, a noted journalist himself, pulls no punches as he describes, details, and documents the exploits of five independent Texas journalists who swam upstream against often vicious tides of popular public opinion. James McEnteer is an independent scholar and journalist. He is a former Fellow of the Joan Shorenstein Center for the Press, Politics and Public Policy at the John F. Kennedy School of Government, Harvard University. McEnteer, a noted journalist himself, pulls no punches as he describes, details, and documents the exploits of five independent Texas journalists who swam upstream against often vicious tides of popular public opinion.
