Amazingly, this 944 S2 still proudly displays its original paintwork, anybody who knows these cars, will know that this is almost unheard of. As you would expect, with the mileage covered, it does show a little bit of patina in places, but overall this example presents great, especially considering it has never had any restorations type works at all. All Porsche 944 Coupe (model 944) versions offered for the year 1988 with complete specs, performance and technical data in the catalogue of cars. The Porsche 968 was sold from 1992 to 1995, and marketed as the replacement for the Porsche 944. When production ceased in 1995, it represented the end of a line started almost 20 years earlier with the introduction of the Porsche 924. The Porsche 928 is a luxury grand tourer produced by Porsche AG of Germany from 1978 to 1995. Originally intended to replace the company's iconic 911, the 928 combined the power, poise, and handling of a sports car with the refinement, comfort, and equipment of a luxury saloon. Porsche executives believed such a flagship would have wider appeal than the compact, quirky and sometimes difficult ...
