White collar, civilian personnel in the federal government are paid on the standardized GS schedule. Some agencies may pay their employees using Pay Band systems or other special pay programs, but the GS schedule is the most widely used. For the General Schedule (GS), Federal Wage System (FWS) and the Law Enforcement Office (LEO) Schedule pay is based on grade and step. Grade increases are considered promotions and are linked to title, job responsibilities, education and experience. PRIMO, the largest independent national magazine for and about Italian Americans, provides quality journalism on Italian American history, heritage, and achievements. PRIMO discusses topics of importance to Italian Americans with articles on Italian art, language, travel, food and wine.
