EN 13319 EN 13319 "Diving accessories - Depth gauges and combined depth and time measuring devices - Functional and safety requirements, test methods" is a European diving depth gauge standard. In order to develop Subsurface to serve its users in the best possible way, it's important to have user information. Upon launching Subsurface and using the software for a week or so, a one-box user survey pops up. It is entirely optional and the user controls what, if any, data are sent to the Subsurface development team. All data the user sends is useful, and will only be used to steer ... A dive computer, personal decompression computer or decompression meter is a device used by an underwater diver to measure the time and depth of a dive so that a safe ascent profile can be calculated and displayed so that the diver can avoid decompression sickness. Most dive computers use real-time ambient pressure input to a decompression algorithm to indicate the remaining time to the no ...
